New Arcade To Be Built In Our City?

Rumors have it, and brochures are being circulated to the effect that soon after the first of the year that your Planning Commission will receive application and preliminary plans for the building of an "Arcade" on the site now occupied by the "old hotel."

Definite is the fact that the building has been sold and certain tenants have been given notice to "vacate." The Arcade, as it has been rumored, will be a group of small stores similar to those in the Wisteria Shopping Center in the 300 block of Sierra Madre Blvd. It has not been definitely learned if the entire hotel will be torn down, but in its condition we assume that it will; but the building will be the former Sierra Club, Coin Shop and Past and Present Antique Store and possibly the entire hotel. The brochures are soliciting interested renters in the new complex to be ready in the late summer or early fall.

$20,000 Cost of Suit To Be Raised By Donations, Fund Raising Groups

by R. ROBERT EVANS

Ralph R. Rule, now Councilman and former Mayor of the City of Sierra Madre, finds himself again in the Courts; this time Councilman Rule is being sued by the Board of Education of the Pasadena Unified School District on the grounds that he Voted No in the bond election last spring when the district tried to raise approximately 35 million dollars.

Along with Councilman Rule, James S. Mize as the executive officer and clerk of the Board of Supervisors was also sued because he refused to sell the bonds and turn the money over to the School District.

The whole thing revolves around the two-thirds majority vote needed to approve school and local government bonds throughout the state in what is termed a violation of the rights guaranteed under the Constitution of the United States.

The whole situation is a test in the cities of Alhambra, Rosemead and Sierra Madre where the School Districts are petitioning the court to order the advertisement for sale of bonds which received a majority, but not the two-thirds majority, of "Yes" votes in the elections earlier this year.

The so-called "One man vote" principle, which led to reapportionment of State Legislative districts on order from the U. S. Supreme Court, is being applied by the schools' petitioners.

The petitioners in this action for a writ of mandate in the Pasadena suit against Ralph R. Rule, are the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, and John Cushman, a Pasadena Attorney and father of two children in the public schools, and represents all of those who voted "YES" on the 35-million dollar bond issue. Councilman Rule, father of one daughter in PHS was picked to represent all the "no" voters of

Firefighters Give Piano

It was the decision of your Volunteer Firefighters, at their regular meeting of Friday, December 12, that the department would purchase and donate to the new Community Center a piano.

No piano in the building constitutes the necessity of a tedious job of moving back and forth the old piano at the Park House.

Two firefighters, Douglas Tucker and Gary Smith volunteered to make the selection, and "let no grass grow under their little feet." They made the selection and presented the piano to Mayor Hartman at the stroke of midnight at the Annual Firefighters Dance. The piano was transported to the Community Center early Monday, December 15.

Police Foil Burglary Attempts

In the early morning hours of Wednesday, December 10, newly appointed Police Officer Art Hernandez was what you might call "initiated." Officer Hernandez, while on patrol checking the business district observed a broken window at the VFW Hall at 40 East Montecito. With assistance of other officers and further investigation, Officer Hernandez apprehended the suspect inside the building.

The 24 year old male suspect, a local resident was booked for suspicion of burglary and is awaiting trial. All stolen property was recovered. Officer Hernandez has been with the Sierra Madre Police Department about two weeks having previously worked with the Azusa PD for approximately four years.

Shortly after midnight, four days after the incident at the VFW, on December 14, a burglary suspect attempted to enter Lisette's Apparel, a dress shop located at 108 West Sierra Madre Boulevard. Attempted entry was made by cutting a hole in the roof. The suspect had all his tools and equipment for "breaking and entering" and leaving with the merchandise.

The burglary attempt was foiled when, as a result of entering the roof, the burglar alarm was set off. The suspect fled the scene leaving numerous tools and

Wagner's Explanation of Demonstrated Trash Rack

A full scale demonstration of the invention of Mr. Edmond Wagner's "Trash Rack" was held on Wednesday afternoon, December 10 at the City Yard. Members of the Los Angeles Flood Control District, City Councilmen, City Engineer and City Administrator were present at the demonstration. The Flood Control District is to make a full report to the City Council, this report is expected at the next regular Council meeting. In the meantime the following article of explanation to the public is being made:

by Edmond Wagner

The large scale demonstration of the parallel bar prototype screen for the debris rack as carried out on December 11 demonstrated that the mixture of assorted size granite particles that is typical of the material that would be carried into the basin behind the Sierra Madre dam is readily retained under the screen by the porous bed of large particles that is quickly formed against the bars. In fact, the demonstration showed that the width of the slots could probably be increased somewhat, possibly to 1/2 inch, and still obtain satisfactory retention of the mixture of particles known as "debris." Whatever increase in slot width that can be obtained will further reduce the already small friction drop for the flow of water thru the screen.

The angle of repose exhibited by the material carried under the screen while building up to the bottom of the screen showed the feasibility and practicability of the design to provide clearance under the screen for earth moving equipment to pass under the screen to remove collected debris after a storm.

The demonstration showed that somewhat larger concentration of leaves than would normally be expected in a debris flow had little effect on the flow of water thru the screen. It was also demonstrated that concentrations and amounts of leaves many times greater in relation to amount of granular material than would be expected in a natural debris flow created only a small force of about two pounds per inch of screen before being overcome by increased flow capacity of the area above the deposit. This small force magnitude was shown by the fact that it was just barely enough to lift the weight of the screen, which was not retained by any mechanical fastening, but held in position on rails on the side of the chute only by its own weight. After this small movement the screen remained stationary. This method of retention was purposely to show the lack of forces of any magnitude in normal operation.

Two general comments were made by observers of this and previous demonstrations about the possible use of the screen in a debris retention installation:

1. An avalanche could not safely be stopped.
2. Tremendous forces that would be developed by the debris deposit could not be resisted.

In regard to a disastrous flow of debris following a

The 49th Annual Christmas Party for the children of Sierra Madre and area is all set for Wednesday evening, December 24, at the hour of 7 p.m. sharp in Memorial Park on the north side just off Sierra Madre Blvd.

Santa Claus has received his invitation from the Sierra Madre Firefighters and has wired his acceptance. He has also assured the Firefighters that we little Elfie is now on a 16 hour a day shift cleaning out the stables so that he can make the trip with him, and Santa has assured the Firefighters that he will have his work done and be on hand.

The stockings will have been filled with candy, nuts, orange, apple and popcorn ball, and the Firefighters have prepared over a thousand for the occasion.

All children within reading distance of this newspaper are cordially invited to attend this Christmas Eve Party. It is the 49th annual affair that is put on by the Sierra Madre Volunteer Firefighters.

Many of your mothers and fathers have met dear old Santa in Memorial Park and they can remember, with great joy the memories of these moments with him. Tuesday, December 24 at 7 p.m. sharp at Memorial Park, Chief Charles Brown and his 24 Firefighters will be there to be sure that you get your gift.

Norm Boehm Was Stabbed He Is Bleeding Very Badly

by R. ROBERT EVANS

The Christmas story for this household just must be told, and in the story is a very dear lesson, that we hope to pass on to those who are interested.

The family is the Norman Boehm family of South Sunnyside, the time of the start of the story is a very lovely Sunday morning, the date November 30 and the Boehm family is attending church as they usually do.

All of a sudden during the services the Elder of the church started to go through the congregation passing out $20, $10, $5 and $1 bills. Now this in itself could cause a riot in any church; but not to Norman Boehm, all he wanted to do was to get his hands on one of those $20 bills, and being tall, lanky and with a long reach it was easy for him to retrieve the object of his affection.

After he had settled back in his seat, the $20 bill nicely tucked away in his wallet, the Elder then gave the explanation. (Everyone was glad he did this before church was out).

As the Elder explained, the church was in a very heavy building program and was doing everything in their power to raise the necessary needed money for their project, that he had just passed out a quantity of monetary bills and those that received them should leave the church that day, go forth into the world and invest the amount that they chose. On December 31 they should return to the church with the amount so selected with the gain that they had acquired by investing and re-investing the bills.

Now Evelyn and Norman Boehm found themselves in a rather peculiar position, neither of them could sing very well, fan dances were out, he had never had an appeal for the Stock Market, neither had ever written a play, nor had much luck in Las Vegas. But here he was with a $20 bill in his breeches and absolutely no way to get it back into the hands of the Elder for redistribution. In other words he was stuck, and he was bleeding badly.

A miserable week followed, and then the light came over the horizon. . . Ha! Ha! thinks Norman, Evelyn is a wonderful cook, in fact she is a whiz at baking, and at this time of the year her German Stollen is out of this world. . . Now she is home all day long with nothing to

Sydney Westfall Receives Promotion With State

SIERRA MADRE RESIDENT, SYDNEY L. WESTFALL, right, is congratulated by Richard Nevins, Southern California member of the State Board of Equalization, on his promotion to Supervising Field Auditor. Westfall has spent most of his 12 year career in the Board's Pasadena office. He is Deputy City Treasurer of the City of Sierra Madre and a graduate of the University of Southern California.

Sierra Madre resident, Sydney Westfall's promotion to Supervising Field Auditor in the Inglewood State Board of Equalization office, was announced today by Richard Nevins, Southern California Board Member.

Nevins congratulated Westfall on his rise through civil service system to his new position. "We are most pleased to have employees of Mr. Westfall's caliber, for the Board deals with seven major tax laws and encompasses some 75 per cent of the taxes levied in California," noted Nevins.

Born in the State of Washington, Westfall moved to the Los Angeles area during his infancy where he was educated. He is a graduate of the University of Southern California.

Westfall started his Board employment in October, 1957 working for most of his career in the Board's "Pasadena office." He now will cope only with the more complex and difficult audit assignments.

Senior Citizens Hold Christmas Party Dec. 20

The Sierra Madre Senior Club met in the Park House. A Christmas card from Bruce Peppin, president of the Teen Club, thanking the members for attending the delightful pancake breakfast, also one from the City Council was read. The members wish to express their thanks for these lovely cards and wish the senders to know they really appreciate them.

On December 20th there will be the Christmas party with ice cream and cookies, fifty cent gifts to exchange. The Wilson Girls' Choral Group will entertain. The members presented President Dorothy with a gift in their appreciation for her excellent work she has done in 1969.

Bessie Erwin and Hazel Cowart reported on their trip to Africa. They flew from London, stayed in the Treetop Hotel and went out on 19 safaris. They saw the 125 square mile park that is run by the government. They saw hundreds of zebras, forty different kinds of gorgeous birds, including the weaver birds, they weave their nests that hang on trees. In the huge volcano crater 26 different kinds of animals live.

Margaret Sherman and Mr. Vic Belsinger were introduced. They are representatives of the Foothill Voters League. After the meeting adjourned, these two young people remained and played Easy Eight, Kings in the Corner, 99, Spades, Fish Sevens. They had never heard of these games before but said they really enjoyed them and the Seniors really appreciated them taking the time to play with them.

Santa Claus Is Coming To Town

The Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce is preparing for their annual Christmas festivities. The creche has been erected at Kersting Court and the new street pole decorations are up.

We will miss Harvey Birk as Santa Claus this year. A new volunteer, Al Lehman, Jr., will be making his rounds commencing Wednesday, Dec. 17th, stopping at the stores every weekday from the 17th through the 24th, 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., with the exception of Saturday, the 20th when he will be making calls up to 9 p.m. His knapsack will be crammed full of candy canes for all the children.

If any merchant would like to have Santa visit at a particular time for some special occasion call the Chamber Office from 10:00 a.m. to 2 p.m. any weekday.

Youngsters in the 7th, 8th and 9th grade groups are making Christmas card posters which will be placed in the store windows. Prizes of $10.00; $7.50 and $5.00 will be awarded to the winners.

Fire Call Number 98

Your Sierra Madre Volunteer Firefighters made their 98th Full Response run at 3:34 p.m. Thursday, December 11, to 935 East Grandview Ave.

Engine 424 answered the alarm in 3 minutes 39 seconds to find that a small field of avocado trees was burning. The pumper worked five minutes using 50 gallons of water and extinguished the fire.

Cause of the fire was of a suspicious nature with book matches found in the vicinity, and informants stating that boys had been smoking in the orchard.

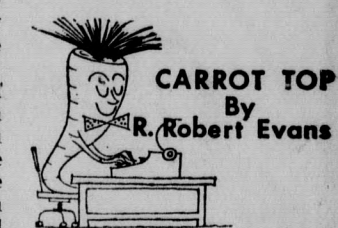

Engine 423 responded and on standby with Truck 421 on the scene.

Eleven Regular Firefighters answered the alarm, and with no damage declared by Fire Chief Charles Brown, were released at 4:10 to return to the station and prepare for the next alarm.

CARROT TOP
By
R. Robert Evans

I suppose with Majubey day coming on Saturday, November 29 and the latestness of putting up the Christmas decorations due to the high winds, Christmas seems like a very short season this year.

—CT—
Seems like we remember that the Creche and the Christmas Decorations were up by December 1 last year, and the wind blew them down around the 15th of December. Maybe everyone thinks we will have better luck with the wind this year, but it sure makes the old Christmas spirit a little late in coming to town.

—CT—
This being December 18 brings us mighty close to that long awaited day, but this year, according to all the reports of the statisticians it will be a mighty lean Christmas for many, or should we say a very conservative one.

—CT—
Those that have the national scene under their watchful eye tell us that merchants should be holding SALES. Now sales seem to be the uncommon thing at this time of the year, but they say the Merchant that holds sales now will have the least amount of merchandise left over for his January inventory. Up to this point we have seen very little evidence of this sort of merchandising, except by the bigger stores.

—CT—
Of course, right on the heels of Christmas comes the New Year and a new decade. These same statisticians tell us that things do not look too good for the year 1970. Profits are termed to be almost out of the picture and it is going to be tough to hold prices, wages and for most of the merchants just to be marginal. They see a little flourish around the middle of the year, but it is going to be rough, rough and rough.

—CT—
It is not the fact that the people do not have the money, but they are going to be mighty careful as to how they spend it. They are looking to save their homes by paying their taxes, which is very evident by the looks of the delinquent tax list. They are going to curb their credit buying to keep themselves as solvent as possible, and this is all because they do not know just what lay ahead . . . employment cutbacks, higher taxes, higher living costs all give the average citizen the feeling that he should be ready to meet those emergencies.

—CT—
1970 should be a very interesting year. In April we will find out if the citizens of Sierra Madre are satisfied with the present City Officials. This has been an administration that leans toward giving the people of Sierra Madre some of the things they have been paying for for several years and not had the opportunity of enjoying.

Letters To the Editor . . . Neighbor

Dear Editor:
Farewell Helms! Friend of the elderly — the house-bound — the non-drivers, those who medically require low sodium bread . . . Helms, the world's best. Also those who prefer as many home services as possible in preference to the supermarket struggle; as well as many who just preferred Helms' products . . . Apparently the competition of "two cars in every garage" and the supermarkets just too great . . . and the trucks had to quit . . . The news media proclaim they were defeated by "progress." To many it is a step backward. We have appliances to make easy our household chores . . . But the missing link? Home services. They are not as good as they were in 1900.

"Why are you breaking up housekeeping and moving into a hotel for senior citizens?" I asked a well-to-do elderly friend who could no longer drive. "Too difficult to get food into the house . . . Can't get household help . . . Transportation problems too great," she replied. Is this "progress"?

An area where my niece lives in Whittier has not only lost the Helmsman but also their dairy products home delivery. It is rumored the "milkmen" are on their way out. Our milkman assures us his company will not quit home deliveries. Only time can tell. If the housewives won't buy they can't continue. Their quitting would work a hardship on many people.

This is not a personal gripe. This letter is written in behalf of my friends who are distressed by the so-called evolution of "progress." We have long taken Helms and dairy products delivery because we felt it was our duty to do so . . . to help those in need of such services. But believe me when time of stress and need did hit us the deliveries were a blessing. In such times our neighbors have been kind and our market friends have been more than courteous and helpful. The loss of Helms is bad enough but the loss of the "milkman" would be a crushing blow to many.

The "small corner grocery store" has all but vanished. Home services of all kinds becoming more difficult to get. I have been told that in some areas one must be about ready for the death certificate to get a doctor to make a house call. Now, in addition to all this must we be denied the comfort and convenience of milk and other dairy products delivered to our door? The last of the old-fashioned services. Long may their trucks run.

— Lillian B. Sage

Dear Editor:

One of the long-range results of war, however imperceptible it might be, is the degradation of those involved in it. It is impossible to train a segment of any generation in the art of killing their fellow man without producing a decline in moral standards. This decline in moral standards is directly related to the purpose for which the war is being fought and the length of time the war lasts.

Accountants To Conduct Membership Drive

The San Gabriel Valley Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will conduct a member participating meeting on December 18, at an inn in El Monte at 6:45 p.m. Co-sponsoring this meeting will be the California State College, Los Angeles Chapter of Beta Alpha Psi, National Accounting Fraternity.

The topics are Improving the Image of Business in the Eyes of Youth and Social Responsibility of Business.

Member participation meetings are an integral part of the Chapter's activities during the year. The basic purpose of this type of meeting is to give each member an opportunity to participate actively by expressing and exchanging ideas with fellow chapter members.

The member participants will be able to attend each seminar group, with meetings held in separate rooms. Each member is encouraged to bring his ideas and questions to the meeting and be prepared to participate actively so that the many advantages of this type of meeting may be realized.

Any accountant living in this area is invited to attend the dinner meeting. Information and reservations can be obtained by calling Tom Kelleher at 624-7773.

Mrs. Gerald Haas, president of the Churchwomen of the Church of the Ascension, announces that the Sugar Plum Shoppe will be held on Sunday, December 21st during Coffee Hour following the 10 o'clock mass. Baked goods, candies, small gifts and Christmas items will be sold. Proceeds of the sale will be sent to Father Duncan R. McQueen for the work of the Episcopal Church in Suva, Fiji.

FRANK GREEN'S Music for Everyone

First of all, I would like to thank Editor Bob Evans and the Sierra Madre News for helping us get our Music For Everyone column into print.

We have so many activities under way that our students and teachers aren't always current on what's happening.

Now, all they have to do is read the Sierra Madre News every week and they're in the know!

The "Sierra Madre Youth Band" is our project of the moment. For nine years we've wanted a concert and marching youth group to represent our city. But how to get it started?

Several attempts failed until Dean Brown came to Music For Everyone. In 3 months Dean has put together a band and started to build a musical repertoire.

The Prep Band for beginners meets Wednesday from 6 to 7 p.m. and the main Concert Band from 7 to 8 p.m.

Enrollment in the band is $10, which covers purchase of the band jackets — midnight blue with orange trim and lettering.

Band dues are $2 per month and private lessons may be arranged for extra help and technique improvement.

The first public performance was on November 29th during the "Majubur Day" activity. The second concert will be December 18, at the Recreation Center for the Annual Music for Everyone Christmas Show.

Other dates include a trip to the Army and Navy School at Carlsbad, a spring Music Festival and participation in the Sierra Madre 4th of July Parade.

With new members signing up every week our goal of a 100 piece band is not too far away. An advanced Stage Band will start as soon as enough interest is generated.

Dean Brown is well known throughout Southern California for the many fine bands he has produced as Music Director at John Muir High School. We are fortunate that he is able to find time in his busy schedule to direct our band program at Music For Everyone.

For more information about the Sierra Madre Youth Band Program call Music For Everyone — EL 6-1143 and watch for more details in the Sierra Madre News.

Note: — If you're planning a Musical Christmas shop early at Music For Everyone, open 'til nine — Some of the hard-to-get items are going fast!

— Frank Green

'Christmas Is Your Miracle' Christmas Eve

"Christmas Is Your Miracle" is the sermon title selected by Margaret M. Stevens, minister of The Santa Anita Church, 226 West Colorado Blvd., Arcadia, for Sunday, December 21. There will be a special communion service at 9:30 a.m. This service will be followed by the worship service which will be at 10:45 a.m. rather than the usual time of 11 a.m.

The first half hour of the service will be devoted to an original Christmas play written by Mr. Russell Williams of the church school staff and presented by the boys and girls of the Junior Church as their gift to parents and friends of the church. At 11:15 a.m. the regular service will begin. There will also be a reception of new members on this Christmas Sunday. Infant and child care are provided during the 10:45 a.m. service by the Cradle Roll Group. All are welcome.

Christmas Eve Candle-light Service will be at 8 p.m. December 24. There will be special Christmas music and the congregation will join together in singing the beloved carols of Christmas. The lighting of individual candles from the Christ candle will close the service. All are invited to come in Love and Joy to this service of Light, Love and Beauty.

Young adults will meet as usual on Sunday evening. This group is finalizing plans for the Young Adult Conference of New Thought to be sponsored by the Santa Anita Church young people the following week.

Rev. Stevens reminds all: "Dial for Prayer 447-6162 anytime, day or night."

A Busy Year For the Tates

This past year has been a busy one for Paul and Ruth Tate and it's not over yet. During the Fourth of July one of Ruth's school girl friends from Jackson, Michigan, came for a reunion visit with two of her children. They had a wild 4th, along with two other classmates from Jackson who now live out here.

But, with Michigan playing in the Rose Bowl and one of the parade Grand Marshals, Alan Bean, from Jackson, that city will be well represented. Another school chum and her husband arrive on December 27. It will be the first time in the 23 years the Tates have lived here that Barbara and Ernie Roark will come out. Also a first plane trip for Mrs. Roark.

I said the Tate's would be busy and so will daughter Barbara, who, incidentally, was named after Mrs. Roark, and her family. They are awaiting the arrival of adopted brother Fred O'Byrne and his wife of a little over a year from Georgia. Fred and his wife, Barbara, will stay at Jerry and Barbara Frank's in Arcadia and run everyone will along with the Frank's 2½ year old son, Conrad, whom Uncle Fred has never seen.

So, if you hear a lot of commotion at the Tate's and Frank's and parts in between, you'll know why. There will be three Barbara's around and Fred's Barbara has never met her wonderful, and ever busy, in-laws, the Tate's.

Gift Exchange Held By Guild

A Christmas gift exchange was the highlight of the monthly luncheon meeting of the Sierra Madre Auxiliary of the Crippled Children's Guild of Orthopaedic Hospital. The meeting was held December 11 at the home of Mrs. Charles I. Corp in Sierra Madre.

Members were requested to bring old or new toys and clothing for the use of the little children visiting the Valley Clinic in Calexico, the clinic being helped greatly by doctors at Orthopaedic Hospital and its auxiliary in Calexico, California and Mexicali, Mexico.

The Holiday Boutique held November 21, at the home of Mrs. Paul White in Arcadia, was a great success. This was a special sale for members of the auxiliary and their friends of famous name brands of women's apparel at half price, with ten per cent of the sales marked for Orthopaedic Hospital.

November was an extremely busy month for the Sierra Madre Auxiliary. The Roaring Twenties Gambo-lique, held November 14, at the Altadena Country Club was such fun and so successful that it has been suggested that it be made a yearly event.

After the first of the year, plans for the yearly ball, held in May, will be receiving the members' time and attention. It is the hope of the auxiliary, with its limited membership of 35, to make this year the most successful yet. All the Auxiliary's contributions are earmarked for an intensive care unit at Orthopaedic Hospital.

Parade entries will be judged on the basis of beauty, imagination used in decorating design, adherence to the Christmas theme and originality. Boats must be at least 20 feet in length, under power and meet Coast Guard safety requirements.

The boats will be judged in five categories determined by length and by whether they are entered and decorated by individuals or by civic or commercial groups.

In addition to a Sweepstakes award, handsome plaques are given to the first, second and third winners in each of the five classes.

The Christmas Afloat parade of lighted boats is sponsored at the Los Angeles Harbor each year by the Port of Los Angeles and the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce.

DEAR FRIENDS: As a spontaneous assignment, Evelyn and I were asked to increase a sum given us as a church building fund challenge through our own efforts rather than through an additional assessment. In game response, we will prepare limited quantities of German Christmas "Stollen" on special order. A sweet dough bread, Stollen is traditionally representative of the Christ Child. The recipe was brought from Germany and is a traditional German holiday treat. It has been prepared and enjoyed in our family for years. Yours will enjoy it, too! Stollen's ingredients include fresh pecans, selected glazed fruit (though not in overdone quantities), pure creamery butter (the only shortening used), ranch fresh eggs, sugar and enriched flour. Stollen is then fastidiously prepared, baked and topped with melted butter and confectioner's sugar. Stollens will be prepared only on order. A Stollen weighing approximately 2 1/4 pounds is $3.75. They will be gift wrapped and delivered to your home just prior to Christmas Eve. Also included will be the recipe, as once you've tasted Stollen you will probably want to make it an annual Holiday event. To place your order, please call Evelyn at 355-3947 prior to December 20, 1969. I know you and your family will enjoy Stollen with your favorite warm beverage as a Holiday breakfast or snack. — NORMAN BOEHM

A very impressive sight to see the new helmets in action. The Chiefs look true blue in their sparkling new white, and the Captains in their Chrome yellows. Just too bad, that not all of the Engineers have obtained their 4 inch wide chrome yellow stripe, but they will get around to it before too long. Maybe some of them are waiting until the new appointments come up in February before they make the move, but it is definite identification, and a lot better than a half dozen different versions. The black boys stand out very well, no silver, no red stripe, just the good old working black.

major burn in the watershed, combined with a rainfall of the proportions of a fifty year storm, Flood Control offers the following solution:

"Here comes the mud! There is nothing that can be done to stop it, so run up hill and get out of the way — abandon everything — there is no way to avoid the destruction."

Information on the following is needed:

1. Location of any prior avalanche experience in the Little Santa Anita or similar canyon.

2. Where and how in the Little Santa Anita canyon will an avalanche be created.

3. A listing of all possible situations claimed to be the source of the tremendous forces it is alleged will cause failure of the basic design proposed, with technical analyses and supporting force generation data. It would seem appropriate at this time for City Officials to urge the proper agency or agencies to start investigating and testing with a fully-scaled model to the fullest extent possible the principles demonstrated to control the debris flow which would be created by the large scale sheet type surface slips that would occur during a rain of the proportions of a fifty year storm following a major burn of the Little Santa Anita Canyon watershed. Such debris flow would not be prevented or controlled by check dams in a stream system that is largely already eroded to bedrock.

Irresponsible remarks about "exploitation of citizens" do not provide a solution to supply safety for the lives and property of citizens of Sierra Madre.

SIERRA MADRE NEWS
RESOLUTION NO. 69-91
A RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE INDICATING ITS INTENTION

CARROT TOP

To be sure the bank account has dropped a little, but the condition of the City is three fold better off than they were a year ago. Today we have excellent equipment in our City Yards. Equipment that can and is doing a very good job in the Street Department, Water department and Parks and alleys.

— CT —

You have a brand new Community Center that is all PAID for and on a fairly substantial basis for future upkeep. Your Police Department is up to full force and they have the necessary equipment to keep them in first class shape. Your Fire Department is right up to snuff, not wanting for anything to give the City a First Class department.

— CT —

This year again you will see a substantial increase in Property Tax, there is absolutely no way that any of us can get around it. First you will have an increase of 99 cents in the School tax which we voted in. Your City tax will naturally have to go up, and from where we sit at the present moment I would say about another 15 cents. The County with their mounting expenses will not doubt go up another 25 cents. So we estimate that you will have a tax increase for the year 1970, on Personal Property of around $1.45, and this will make another all time high of a tax rate of about $12.50 to $12.75 per $100 valuation.

— CT —

Any tax relief that is given will soon be swiped away by increased valuations and increases in the desired amount needed by the taxing agencies. Not a very bright picture, but one that we can handle if we make plans for it and know that it is coming.

— CT —

Uncle Sam will no doubt give us some kind of tax relief in Income Tax, but will swipe it away in increased Social Security, Sur-tax and decreased allowable expenditures, and you will find that the State will do the same, change things from one pocket to another and you will really end up about the same as you are today with a slight increase all around.

— CT —

Actually, we see very little that any of us can do about all of this, except to gear down our expenditures and take care of those things that mean more to us, and that is just about what will, and is taking place in the financial field of most families.

— CT —

In closing the column for this week, life takes on a kind of atmosphere that hit a sculptor who had been commissioned to place a statue of General Grant and his horse in the city park, and the conversation with the critic went something like this: . . .

— CT —

Critic: "It strikes me as being a very impressive statue, yet isn't it a rather odd posture for a General to assume?"
— CT —
Sculptor: "It isn't my fault. I had the job half done when the committee decided they couldn't afford a horse for the general!" . . . think about it awhile, I hope, I hope, I hope.

Tax Relief?

The State's major revenue agency came out today for more tax relief for homeowners, renters and senior citizens, a statewide property tax for schools, curbs on the charity property exemption, and income tax withholding.

Chairman John Lynch of the State Board of Equalization suggested these and seven other changes in tax laws as "elements in any comprehensive tax reform legislation."

In remarks prepared for a joint session of the Senate and Assembly revenue and taxation committees in Sacramento, Lynch represented Board Members Richard Nevins and George Reilly of the business and property tax agency.

The Board also suggested that the Legislature:

1. Authorize counties to collect property taxes in four or more installments;
2. End restrictions on review of property tax appeals taken to superior courts;
3. Subject public lands leased to private users to full taxation;
4. Simplify administration of the 1 per cent local sales and use tax and eliminate special exemptions for utilities and carriers now in the local tax law;
5. Provide more equity in the truck transportation tax or eliminate it;
6. Eliminate preferred treatment for insurance companies now in the Constitution by removing the principal office deduction "not afforded to other business taxpayers."
7. End the inequity between diesel and gasoline use by trucks by raising diesel fuel 2 cents a gallon because it is 50 per cent more efficient.

Lynch indicated that state school equalization payments still "leave large differences in education opportunities and property tax burdens." He said "adequate safeguards" were available to assure uniform assessments and to prevent higher property taxes for schools.

The Board recommended that the homeowner exemption of 1968 be boosted to at least $1,500 from $750 and that "deficiencies" in the law be corrected for renters, owners of cooperative apartments, owner-occupied multiple housing, and those on public assistance.

"Senior citizens should get more property tax assistance by raising the qualifying income to $5,000 instead of $3,350, and they should get a minimum 20 per cent tax credit," Lynch said. "Those with $3,350 seldom receive as much as $5 now."

The courts recently have broadened definitions of charities and their exemption from property have risen 2,754 per cent since inception of the welfare exemption. This assessed value total was $23 million in 1946. Now it is $650 million.

On income tax withholding, Lynch said "Only California and North Dakota do not have withholding among the 38 states which impose income taxes." He suggested it would stop evasion by short term residents.

More Relief?

Estimates by state fiscal officers of state revenue requirements necessary to effect the transfer of a substantial portion of welfare and public school costs from local to state government, as proposed by an initiative constitutional amendment co-sponsored by the California Teachers Association and the County Supervisors Association of California, were described by the initiative's sponsors today as "good news for property taxpayers."

Jack Rees, executive secretary of the 170,000-member teacher association, declared:

"If the state estimates prove correct, property taxpayers will receive even greater relief than had been anticipated."

An all-out drive to secure more than half a million signatures needed to qualify the initiative for the June 1970 primary ballot is now under way, Rees announced.

"The bulk of the signatures will have been obtained by Dec. 15," Rees stated, "with our peak effort geared for December 10, which was designated as 'Property Taxpayers Appreciation Day.'"

"December 10 was the deadline for payment of the first installment of 1969-70 property taxes. On the same deadline next year, homeowners and other property taxpayers can expect a substantial slash in their property tax bills, as a result of the Property Tax Reform initiative."

Circulation of the initiative petitions was made possible by the issuance of a title and summary for the proposed amendment last week by Attorney General Thomas B. Lynch.

Under terms of the initiative, the state, which now pays approximately 65 per cent of the total state and local cost of welfare programs, would absorb 90 per cent of the cost; the state, which currently pays about 35 per cent of the total state and local cost of school operations, would pay 50 per cent; also, the present homeowners' property tax exemption of $750 would be increased to $1,000.

Relief to property taxpayers through these transfers of financial responsibility from local to state government would entail state revenue requirements of $1.13 billion, according to estimates supplied the attorney general by Caspar W. Weinberger, state director of finance, and A. Alan Post, legislative analyst.

Commenting on the state officials' estimates, Rees declared:

"The state figures are somewhat higher than the more conservative estimates compiled by school and county fiscal experts; however, we have no real quarrel with them, as we realize that no estimate of future costs can be absolutely precise, and that assumptions have to be made by all estimators."

"If the state estimates prove correct, it is good news indeed for property taxpayers, as most of the increased cost estimate is in the area of welfare, the transfer of which provides direct and immediate property tax reduction. Under the state's estimates, property taxpayers will receive even greater relief than had been anticipated."

SENSING THE NEWS

AROUND THE U. S. CAPITOL

Some of the most remarkable feats of the free enterprise system are being accomplished on Alaska's North Slope where U. S. oil companies are opening a colossal new oilfield that will end American dependence on foreign crude oil and add immensely to the wealth of the State of Alaska. Unhappily, there is opposition.

One of the projects involves shipment of oil to the East Coast by ice breaker-tanker, a feat that the icebreaker-tanker SS Manhattan proved feasible in September by navigating the ice-choked Northwest Passage. Even before the trans-Arctic voyage was undertaken, gloom and doom types were creating the bogeyman of oil leaks in Arctic waters. The real opposition to American enterprise is developing in connection with another phase of the North Slope project, the construction of an oil pipeline across the Gulf of Alaska on the southern edge of the state. Oil from this point would be shipped to the West Coast and Japan.

The North Slope project already has earned Alaska tremendous sums in leases given for the oil properties. When the oilfield goes into production in the early 1970s, Alaska also will be the recipient of a huge income in oil royalties. As a matter of fact, the entire nation will benefit financially. The Alaskan oilfield will generate colossal sums in federal income taxes. Moreover, with Alaskan oil available, the United States will not have to import so much from abroad, and the gold drain on the country will be greatly lessened, thereby promoting the nation's financial health.

Despite all the good things that the Alaskan oilfield promises, there is developing opposition from liberal quarters. The New York Times, for example, has gone on record as opposing prompt construction of an 800-mile pipeline needed to move the Alaskan North Slope oil.

It speaks unfairly of the "greedy haste" of oil companies. It raises the spectre of a state polluted and wilderness lands destroyed. It even bases its opposition to the pipeline on the argument that it would "create a barrier to migrating caribou."

It's tragic how development projects beneficial to the American people can be held up by emotionalism. Conservation, of course, is an important cause. And the State of Alaska has every intention of preserving wilderness areas and guarding threatened wildlife species. The oil companies have been most careful to take into account the ecology of the northern region. The Secretary of the Interior has insisted on suitable inspection procedures. But none of these things satisfies the liberals, who can't stand to see the free enterprise system score great achievements and who often do their best to block any development that would add immensely to the wealth and security of the United States.

It's interesting that American liberals never demonstrated any concern during the last thirty years as the Soviets developed their Arctic regions, opening mines, constructing power dams and building cities. Such actions always have been described as progressive by U. S. liberals. But as soon as the U. S. finds petroleum riches in the Far North, the liberal community suddenly discovers a variety of reasons to oppose obtaining the new wealth. They jump on the bandwagon of conservation and carry it to a ridiculous extreme.

The Alaskan oil pipeline would take a strip of land only a few feet wide. Thousands of square miles of

Sixty Years Ago:
December 10, 1909

The Christmas stamps of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis will be placed on sale in Sierra Madre, it is expected at this writing by the time the News is in print. The stamps are of handsome design, printed in colors and make an attractive Christmas greeting to affix to parcels and letters. They are sold at one cent each and may be obtained at the stores of Betts & Welscher, S. R. Norris, Oswald Kehlet, M. C. Doucet, W. E. Bechtelheimer or the News office.

Sierra Madre Rainfall. Total to date . . . 6.20 inches. (From October 1) At corresponding date last season . . . 2.30 inches. With a rainfall of nearly four and one-half inches for the storm which seemed last evening to have ended, the soil had become so saturated that a large part of the water was running off instead of soaking in. However, the fall has been so uniform and long continued that the maximum amount of benefit was probably derived from it.

The Davison Contracting Company were about the only losers by damage from storm water, though the uncompleted swale at the foot of Sunnyside was slightly damaged. Several rods of new cement gutter and swale were taken out by the storm water at the east end of Central Avenue where the Davison crew has been at work. The work had not been accepted by the city. Down in the Eaton canyon wash west of town the big steam shovel in the Pacific Electric gravel pit is more than half submerged in water, mud and gravel washed down from the mountains. The removal of gravel will be stopped temporarily, but the shovel will be easily extracted when the water subsides. The pit is filling with gravel and rocks, making a veritable gold mine for the company to work over again.

Members of the Volunteer Fire Department enjoyed their first social event at Town Hall last Saturday. —Please turn to Page 14

FIRE SIDE

It is also impressive to see the new Advanced Red Cross First Aid patches showing up on the uniforms of those entitled to wear them. This notifies the General Public as to those who are qualified, and at the present we should have somewhere in the vicinity of six of the 24 eligible to give standard First Aid and about 12 eligible for Advanced.

— SMVFD —
The State requires that all be eligible to administer at least the Standard First Aid, so do hope and look forward to another class the first part of the year that will qualify all members.

— SMVFD —
As usual, the 49th Annual Firefighters Christmas Dance, was a howling success. It was an outstanding Orchestra that knew what the dancers wanted and gave it to them. The Firefighters were the grand hosts that they always are. All of us were a little disappointed about the income from the dance, but all agree that things will work out, and next year we will all have to promote and sell a little harder. Enough came in that we will not have to skip on any of our programs, and this, of course makes everyone happy.

— SMVFD —
The next big affair will be the Special meeting of Monday, December 22, when the Firefighters all get together and fill the stockings for the arrival of Santa Claus on the evening of December 24. The Boys always have a ball on this occasion.

Then comes the big evening when the Boys will be dressed in their Dress Blues and be the host for Santa Claus and the children of the area on Christmas Eve. This is a big occasion in the life of our Firefighters; and the second one comes at Eastertime. All of them enjoy watching the small fry meet Santa Claus and to help hunt for the Easter Eggs in Memorial Park.

— SMVFD —
Since it is coming close to that time of the Year, Fire Chief Charles Brown and his 24 Regular Firefighters and his ten Reserves reach way down in their Holiday bag and come up with the warmest greetings for this Christmas Season and of course the New Year.

— SMVFD —
They thank you for watching the children, as well as your own activities to lessen the number of fire calls necessary, and all wish for you the best best for the year 1970, but always reminding you. "The very quickest source of manpower in Sierra Madre is your Volunteer Firefighters, who always, 24-hours a day, stand ready, willing and able to come to you in any emergency. They are dedicated to saving the lives and property of the people of Sierra Madre. If you need them do not hesitate to give them a call.

— SMVFD —
Each Firefighter thanks you from the bottom of their hearts for the support that you gave them in their recent Fund Drive; they know and understand that there were those that wanted to give, but just could not, to you they send their thanks for the kind thoughts and expressions of good will. It is these things that makes a VOLUNTEER, willing to lay down his life for you.

— SMVFD —

— SMVFD —
To Chief Charles Brown, a book of 365 perforated tickets, each worth 24-hours of peace and tranquility for the year 1970, and dear Santa, the rest of the boys have tried to be good boys, give them another chance next year.

Norman Boehm Stabbed, Bleeding Badly

do but take care of two or three little girls, now why, sure why not. I could buy the ingredients for baking stollen, take it home to her and run an advertisement in the Sierra Madre News, and my troubles are all over... Yep, that just what I will do."

So that evening he casually mentioned the subject to wife Evelyn, and not wanting to see her husband grab a $20-bill and come up with nothing submitted to the proposition, thinking that she would be baking, maybe a half dozen of the chosen delicacies.

Well, Norman, so happy that he had shifted the load, was coming forth with some very bragadocious remarks and before he knew it he had orders in his fists for a dozen. Then he placed the advertisement in the Sierra Madre News. By Friday morning, December 12, with the newspaper barely in the hands of the people he was taking orders at his desk in City Hall as fast as he could answer the telephone, in fact, by 10 a.m. he had 30 orders taken to be delivered.

With Our TEENS

By Debbi Anderson and Carol Hathaway

The Sierra Madre Teen Club was made "Volunteer of the Month" of October by the Parks and Recreation Department. This is because we performed such acts as painting the Park House, serving a breakfast, and others.

We're sponsoring a semi-formal Christmas Dance on the 20th. The band is "Breakwater" (better known as Black Opal and Blue Sage). The time is 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. and the price of admission is $1.00 for members and $1.50 for guests.

Drop-ins are still on from Monday through Friday. Times will change after January 5th though from Monday through Thursday and will all be at night.

The winner at our Battle Of The Bands was J. A. Mirasak. They won a contract from us to play at three dances sometime this year. That's all for now but if there are any questions, suggestions, or comments write to: Debbi, c/o Sierra Madre News, Bye.

355-1414 is your Police. 355-1401 is Emergency Fire.

Now German Stollen is a very delicious bread, or most probably we would call it Christmas Bread; it is made with pure cream, very butter, chopped nuts, glazed fruits and many, many choice ingredients. Norman has figured out that the finished product would weigh about 2½ pounds and that if he sold enough at $3.75 each he could build the church himself.

Now Evelyn, is not slow on the ball either; you just cannot be when you have three little girls and a great big, tall, lanky boy to take care of. People like this know what time is and how to spend it profitably.

She immediately set up a delivery system and made dear Norman the President in charge of all deliveries. She also made him treasurer and responsible for all the receipts, and they must tally with the finished product, and then in between his deliveries and deposits at the bank he was made the official "nut-cracker." Now this is just what it says, does not mean the Nutcracker's symphony, he was in charge of seeing that all the nuts were cracked and prepared for the finished product, and he was warned that he must at times fill in for the mixing and depressing of the dough through the many hours of process that it has to go through. Norman still smiles, but it is on the other side of his mouth than he was smiling last week.

Friday, Norman came home, tired and hungry; he asked for a piece of his favorite Stollen, but Evelyn had to tell him... "I sold the last one, you delivered it, no more in the house till Saturday."

Now, the Boehms will take orders for this choice delicacy up to Friday evening, December 19, for delivery Saturday, December 20. The telephone number is 355-3947, the price for this German Stollen is $3.75, delivered to your door. Here is a chance to give your family something outstanding for their Holiday eating... Let's help him build a church, maybe next time he will not reach so quick or so far, after all it was only money.

LONG'S DATE HOUSE

If your gift list contains anyone who dislikes eating, don't go to LONG'S DATE GARDENS. No — take it back — even old Uncle Scrooge himself would be won over by the countless date delicacies and gaily-packaged California goodies there, ready to tempt the most jaded appetites.

Melt-in-your-mouth dates, the non-candy confection, rolled, stuffed, or whole, taste like California itself. Or for variety try date butter, date nougats, date syrup, and date sugar. Eye-catching ceramic beehives contain a variety of honeys. Honey-sweetened preserves in gourmet flavors of tangerine pomegranate, fig-date, ginger-orange would catch your "taste-rating" with the boss or business acquaintance.

Nuts, choice halves shelled and ready for nibbling, for fruit cakes, for roasting, for sundaes (and the rest of the week too), may cause same agonizing indecision until you "compromise" and add a box — and then another for Auntie Mame (who's a little bit nutty herself).

Then there is fruit cake — bon-bon size to accompany ice cream, sherbet, or simply coffee. Choice dried fruits, or perhaps Sunland olives for those whose sweet tooth has been extracted.

Remember, just the postmark on a present from California conjures up a vision of date palms, fruit trees, and walnut groves. Imagine the delight when any or all of these mental mirages materialize with one of Long's select assortments ready for holiday mailing. Handy? On Foothill in Pasadena, just two blocks east of Sierra Madre Boulevard — SY 6-6360.

Know THE FOOD You Eat

by JEANNETTE

EDITOR'S NOTE: When her children were young and full of questions, Jeannette Hesley found herself looking up the why of the food her children ate and asked questions about. She would write them down and after explaining them to the satisfaction of her children, filed them away for future questions. Now that her children are grown, she extracted them from the Hesley Archives and is sharing them with you in a weekly column.

To borrow a phrase from CT, "I Hope, I Hope, I Hope," that you have made your plum pudding or fruit cake for Christmas, and have it tucked away curing to blend all those spices and that dash of spirits that makes it so rich and delicious.

The plum pudding evolved from a sorry mess of watery gruel pottage. The oldest recipe called for wheat boiled until the grains burst, cooled, strained and boiled again with broth or milk and yolks of eggs. This was known as furrmet or frummenty. It must have been pretty awful, for we find that every Christmas somebody was adding an egg or two, a dash of mace, a slice of ginger cake, or a handful of raisins, currents or prunes. This concoction was boiled in a pulp and served in a soup tureen. Later suet was added, and after centuries it had been sweetened and stiffened into the plum pudding much as we know it today. In the Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England the Prayer for the Last Sunday before Advent began with the words, "Stir up," The people of Peterborough, England felt that this was a reminder that they should start their plum pudding on the last Sunday before Advent, and it was stirred each week, each person in the family giving it a stir now and then until it was finally cooked.

Today we know the plum pudding as fruitcake. This term is applied to a cake composed mainly of fruits and nuts, held together with a rich batter. The fruits used are dried, candied, or crystallized. These fruitcakes vary in color from very dark ones which contain molasses or brown sugar and a large varied amount of spices to those which are made with granulated sugar, lighter colored fruits, and no spices.

If we lived in the southern section of our country we would probably make our fruitcakes with sugar, molasses, brandy, rum, or bourbon, rosewater, candied orange peel, currants, raisins, candied citron, almonds and nutmeg. If we wanted a light golden cake we would not use molasses, and we could use dates, candied cherries and pineapple, coconut and almonds. Some prefer to use walnuts, others pecans. The combinations of fruits, nuts and spices can be varied to suit your own taste. The sauce used with the fruitcake also varies.

Regardless of the type of fruitcake you decide to make it is bound to be good and accepted by your family, or as a Christmas gift for a favorite friend.

Another traditional Christmas dessert is the Mince pie. We also serve this pie at Thanksgiving, but in the beginning this pie was baked to symbolize the gifts of the Wise Men to the Child Jesus. They were baked in the form of the manger, and the upper crust was called a coffin. If the pie was cross latticed this represented the hayrack of

License Renewal Notices Now Out

Thirteen million vehicle registration renewal notices will be in California motorists' mailboxes on or about the first of December. The Department of Motor Vehicles is mailing them out today. The computer has been printing them since early October.

Department of Motor Vehicles Director Verne Orr said this is the third consecutive year the cards are being delivered in early December instead of just before New Year's Day. "It spreads the renewal opportunity over two full months. If people take advantage of it they will save themselves trouble and the state will save a lot of money," he said.

February 4, 1970, is the legal renewal deadline.

"Registration time is a time of trouble for countless vehicle owners," Orr declared. He said tens of thousands of notices will be returned to DMV — undeliverable because the vehicle owners have forgotten to notify both the department and post office where they have moved.

In spite of a clear warning: "If you no longer own this vehicle, destroy this card," thousands will pay fees for cars they have sold or traded in.

Other thousands will discover that they still technically own a vehicle which they no longer have because the new owner has never reported the purchase to DMV.

Orr had this advice for recipients of renewal statements: "If you still have the vehicle, but anything on the statement no longer reflects the true situation, such as the owner's name or address or the identity of license number of the vehicle, bring the statement to the nearest DMV office with all documents that explain discrepancy. Do this early."

"If you accept the statement as correct, it can be mailed to DMV in Sacramento with your check or bank draft made out in the exact amount of the billing. Better yet, get in the 'express' line at your local DMV office and walk out with your 1970 sticker." The new sticker color is bold orange.

Sermon Topic December 21

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" This question constitutes the subject of next Sunday's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon. The lesson contains this verse from Revelation: "We give thee thanks, O Lord God Al mighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned."

A related passage from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "The central fact of the Bible is the superiority of spiritual over physical power."

Uncomfortable Year Ahead

UCLA Economists Predict Recession Due In 1970

In 1970 the U.S. economy will suffer its first recession since 1960-61, but this will be a "necessary contraction" to assure better times during the next decade.

This is the prediction of UCLA economists who disclosed their findings at "Forecast '70," the 18th annual business forecast held December 4 by the Graduate School of Business Administration and UCLA Extension.

While not expecting a "major" recession in 1970, the economists predict a decline in the Gross National Product during the first six months, resulting in higher unemployment.

Neil H. Jacoby, UCLA professor of business economics and chairman of President Nixon's Task Force on Economic Growth, said it will be an "uncomfortable" year ahead with slow business activity and increasing levels of unemployment, which he said the government should offset by extended unemployment insurance benefits and the creation of public works projects in urban areas.

Jacoby predicted that the Nixon Administration would assign a "high priority to federal expenditures designed to improve the physical environment, and to make cities more comfortable, attractive, safe and efficient places in which to work and live."

Summarizing the predictions, Robert M. Williams, professor of business economics and director of the UCLA forecasting project, said that 1970 will be a "most peculiar year by all previous standards."

Williams said it will be a "year of slow real growth, rising unemployment, and lower corporate profits. However, interest rates will remain high, and wages and prices will continue to rise more rapidly than desired."

The predicted mild recession is the result, the economists said, of the Nixon Administration's restrictive fiscal and monetary policies, adopted to curb the inflationary boom which began with the Vietnam war escalation in 1965. The decline in economic activity is based on the assumption that the war in Vietnam will continue to de-escalate and the U.S. will not be involved in any other "shooting war" during 1970.

Although the national economy may be in some trouble, California will be in relatively good shape, with the exception of aerospace industries, said Sol L. Rabin, UCLA assistant professor of regional science.

1970 will be a year of strikes, "both private and public," and high wage settlements, according to Paul Prasow, senior lecturer in industrial relations at UCLA. "There is rebellion in the air," Prasow said.

Welcoming the more than 600 businessmen who attended the forecast conference, Chancellor Charles E. Young said there is urgent need for reconciliation of technology, human needs and environmental problems in order to produce a sound economy.

The UCLA annual forecast, the oldest of several

BUY LESS

Do you habitually take a 25 or 30 per cent discount on the personal checks you write?

Many people do . . . without realizing it. It's the hidden penalty they pay for the privilege of taking their trade to some other city or town.

Take a moment to consider the facts: Only about 70 cents of each dollar we spend goes to pay for the actual goods or service that we get. About 30 cents of that dollar has to cover the expenses of the community where the sale is made . . . to pay the people who work there . . . to return something on the capital invested . . . to help support the civic facilities such as churches, schools, fire and police protection, road and street maintenance, etc.

Of course, when we spend our money away from home we get no personal benefit whatever from the 30 per cent of it which goes for community business and social improvement.

Doesn't it follow, then, that when we give checks or money for out-of-town purchases, nearly one-third of the amount goes for something we don't get? Isn't that very much the same as discounting our checks or money?

Ralph Rule Sued Again, Also James Mize
the district. Both Rule and Mize are not sued personally but only as "real persons in interest" which must be included in the event the case comes before the U. S. Supreme Court.
Rule said that he opposed the Bond issue because he was disappointed of the proposed cluster high school complex, but said he was appearing in the suit because the "one-man-one-vote" principle must be settled by the courts. He said that he understood the "two-thirds majority" section was voted into the Constitution by the people in 1870 as a measure to stop the issuance of bonds on a wholesale basis and the two-thirds vote was a safe-guard for the people.
The 35-million dollar bond issue voted on April 22 last by a vote of 23,257 yes and 22,742 voting no, a 50.6 per cent in favor.
Mize enters the picture as being the man who refused to offer the bonds for sale. The districts last month passed a resolution calling for the supervisors to offer the bonds for sale, even though they had not received a two-thirds majority. The supervisors ordered their clerk James Mize, to advertise them for sale. Mize refused on the grounds that advertising them would be an "unlawful expenditure of public funds" since, if sold, the bonds would violate the two-thirds constitutional provision. The supervisors replied that the U. S. Constitution establishes the simple majority vote and sale of the bonds would be valid if this is what triggered the action.
A committee for voting equality, a group of private citizens, has sprung up to raise the money for legal costs for the three local school districts which is expected to be in the vicinity of $20,000. Some high school students and bodies are planning fund raising drives to assist the committee.
At this point it is assumed that should the courts rule in favor of the petitioners then the Pasadena Unified School District

Following the Cantata the Chancel and Crusader Choirs of Bethany Church will also present Christmas selections at the evening service. The church is located at 93 North Baldwin.

Rev. Anderson Announces His Sunday Topic

"The Mighty God" Rev. Richard J. Anderson of Sierra Madre Congregational Church, 170 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. Sunday 11:00 a.m. sermon.

Who is Jesus? Was he the greatest of prophets of Israel? Was he the wisest of all men? Was he the greatest moral teacher who ever lived? Many people have impressions about who Jesus is but they never consider what Jesus said about himself. After all, if Jesus can't be trusted when he talks about himself why should he be trusted as a great moral teacher or prophet. Read the gospels in the New Testament and discover the answer.

ACTION — December 23. Caroling and delivering of food baskets. Meetings will begin January 6th.

As Hank Ives Sees It

THE YEAR OF THE BLAIRS . . . PETE YODER and the Blair Vikings rate a few zillion cheers for bringing the CIF 4-A grid championship to the Crown City. Old Hankus will pat himself on the back for predicting it would happen way, way back in October.

WHILE WE ARE AT IT let's throw a few cheers South Pasadena way where Ray Solari's Tigers hideout in their lair with the AAA title clutched in their paws. SAN GABRIEL VALLEY ALL-STAR sponsors will have a field day next summer when they toot the horns for the area athletes and can boast of two CIF champs.

JUST THINK, it has been 54 years since a team from Pasadena won the crown. Duffy Sea piloted the Pasadena Bulldogs into the winner's circle the second year after the playoffs started. They whipped Whittier 50-0 in a game played at Occidental College. Anyone around these parts remember the game held back in December, 1915?

WHILE WE ARE HANDLING OUT KUDOS — Here is one vote for James McAllister as the CIF Player of the Year. He is terrific. Just think what a battle there will be among the colleges hoping to obtain this young man's services.

WHAT A SHAME Myron Tarkanian and Harvey Hyde fell to the system. PCC's co-coaches were forced to resign and become assistants to their own assistant, Bill Handstrom. My, oh my, but there are a lot of behind the scenes activities involved in this caper. Were the co-coaches over zealous in their recruiting? Would anyone believe they didn't know the players had played in Hawaii, when both men were assistant coaches there at the time?

ONE THING FOR SURE — both Hyde and Tarkanian will attack the coaching problems just as hard as if they were the head man. Sandstrom is their guy. The three will continue to work well together and many young men in this area will benefit from their coaching talents. It's the system men. Someone, in this case both men, had to answer for eligibility discrepancies that should have been discovered long before the end of an unbeaten season.

I LIKE TO THINK of the 1969 Lancers as a team that went unbeaten throughout the season, with just one loss to a perfect record. Unbeaten in just their second season in the toughest J.C. football conference in the United States.

WEEKEND GRID OBSERVATIONS . . . Colorado's Bob Anderson is a bonafide All-American. He is big, strong, quick and aggressive and one of the finest running backs of the year. The Colorado - Alabama Liberty Bowl tussle was a brilliant offensive battle that had TV viewers on the edge of their seats.

THE SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS seem to be giving away much more than they are getting in their recent trading splurge. Good to see Pasadena's Dick Williams land with his old cronie Gene Mauch at Montreal. Williams is probably disheartened by the turn of fate that bounced him from the Boston Red Sox just two short years after he pulled the miracle of Beantown and took the Bostons to the World Series.

BOB BOYD has gone on record saying he doesn't expect his team to lose more than five games this season. One loss already in the bag. Will another pair come at the hands of the UCLA Bruins?

IT SEEMS HARD TO BELIEVE that the local high school and junior college grid season has ended. The pros go until January 18 at the Pro Bowl.

BRIAN HEUBLEIN plays for little Pasadena Poly but there are still some mighty big colleges keeping an eye on his cage potential . . . Ex-St. Francis star, Mike Newlin, is going great guns for the University of Utah. He will get a bit of All-American acclaim but will be a sure fire high draft pick in another year. The pros love 6-5 guards who have muscle and can shoot.

AFTER A HUGE buildup Allan Rudkin fell flat on his face against Ruben Olivares. Helped considerably by a good one-two punch, however. The elaborate plans to TV the fight back to Australia must have suffered considerable since the bout only went two rounds.

THERE ARE THOSE who believe that Spencer Haywood is definitely the pros superstar of the future. The future in his case, meaning right now.

Choral Cantata At Faith Lutheran

The Christmas Cantata, "God With Us," by L. Pfautsch, will be presented by the Senior Choir during the 10:30 Sunday morning pre-Christmas worship service at Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Dr. Edgar Plischke will direct the choral group, with Kenneth Eukin at the organ.

At 9:15, the Sunday school departments will have the final rehearsal of "O Radiant Night," a Christmas Eve service to be presented next Wednesday evening at 7, under the direction of Mr. Jerry Nielsen. Letters To Santa Claus

Dear Santa: If you happen to have a new Civic Center, complete with Administrators office and an office for our dear old mayor would you deliver it to me on Christmas morning, also a new sidewalk with curbs and gutters. I would like to have them too and while in town would you turn on a couple of water faucets, our water department needs the revenue.

Normie Boehm
Dear Santa: Please forget that order for a set of twins I gave you earlier, times are getting rough all over.

Bethany Church Carol Sing

At 7:00 p.m. on Christmas Eve, the mid-week service of Bethany Church will consist of a program of choral music and carol singing. From 7:00 to 7:30, the Chapel and Coronation Choirs under the direction of Mr. Marvin McKissick and Mrs. John Bush respectively, will present music selections in the sanctuary and the congregation will join in singing a number of Christmas Carols.

At 7:30 the entire congregation will go outside to the church patio and sing carols around the giant Christmas tree there. In addition to the carol singing around the Christmas tree, several of the choirs will again perform special music, and Mrs. Robert Schaper will sing a solo, "I Wonder as I Wander."

The members and friends of Bethany Church extend a cordial invitation for all to join in on this festive

Carol Sing

Dear Santa: Would you please get me a Writ of Habeas Corpus, I want to give it to the Board of Directors of the Pasadena Unified School District. I've had my day in court, I don't want any more of it.

Ralphie Rule
Dear Santa: Please bring me a bright red fire engine that I can call all my own. One the young fellows can't take away from me, or be appropriated by the old geezers.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK— millions leave them there! THE WORLD'S STRONGEST MAN

The day little Jimmie admired my muscles I was the strongest man in the whole world. And so I remained until the next morning when I got into an argument with that big kid in the next block. Then a humiliating retreat seemed preferable to a bloody nose.

Life hasn't changed much since I've grown up. Sometimes on Sunday I am so confident of my human might that I glibly pass up the spiritual resources my neighbors are finding in church. And by Monday I'm wondering where to turn for help in some insurmountable difficulty.

Experience is forever teaching me that my own self-confidence is mostly self-delusion. The men I admire seem absolutely honest about their own limitations, and absolutely certain about God's strength.

One Sunday as I sat in a pew and watched others receiving Communion this thought struck me: Among those who kneel reverently before an altar today is undoubtedly the world's strongest man.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

Sierra Madre's dream of a new grammar school was given the assurance of soon becoming a reality last Tuesday when the voters cast a ballot of 710 in favor of the proposition and only 300 against it. This was 110 votes more than the necessary two-thirds to carry the measure.

Miss Beatrice Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Ward of this city, is making remarkable progress with her art work in New York City, as is shown by the fact that five reproductions of her paintings of "Hollywood's Youthful Stars" appeared in color in the Sunday World Magazine of December 1.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schiltz and little daughter, Mary Rita, of 67 East Highland, spent Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. A. E. Goebel of Alhambra.

Daphna Michel, 64-year-old daughter of Rabbi and Mrs. Ephraim F. Einhorn, 3075 Alder Lane, Hastings Ranch, has been chosen over hundreds of children for a leading role in "The Story of Ruth" now being produced by Twentieth Century Fox.

The grand opening of Byron Hopper's new jewelry store at 74 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. will be held this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. There will be free orchids for the ladies and merchandise gifts. Mr. Hopper recently moved from his location in Kersting Ct., next to the Sierra Madre News, to the Sierra Madre Blvd. address.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Sage, 150 N. Sunnyside, were recently surprised by a visit from her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. McNeil of Bay Saint Louis, Miss. Part of the time was spent enjoying the gardens at Descanso, Huntington Library and Arboretum.

Rapid Transit Riders Aid Air Pollution Control

The three-quarters-of-a-million area residents who daily board a Southern California Rapid Transit District bus are contributing to the control of air pollution.

And as improved mass transit facilities enable additional commuters to avoid the use of smog-producing automobiles, the effect will be multiplied.

These were among the observations offered a legislative committee today by the general manager of the RTD, Samuel B. Nelson. Citing the accomplishments that have won national recognition for the RTD's contributions to cleaner air, Nelson told the Air Pollution Subcommittee of the Assembly Transportation Interim Committee that new and promising breakthroughs in the bus development field are being examined by a special Transit Technology Review Board.

"Every bus full of passengers means 35 to 40 automobiles off the streets," Nelson declared at the session, held at the New State Building in Los Angeles.

"However," he added, "our ultimate goal must be the development of a high-speed, high-capacity, electrically-powered public transportation system which will attract and carry millions of commuters in comfort—and in smog-free vehicles—throughout the Los Angeles basin."

Noting that the District's 1,500 diesel-burning buses are responsible for only 3/10,000 of the county's air pollution, Nelson pledged continuation of the District's aggressive control program.

Gas-burning motor vehicles, it was explained, contribute 85 to 90 per cent of the air pollution, according to Los Angeles County Air Pollution Control District (APCD) reports.

As a further comparison, Nelson cited APCD figures showing gasoline motor vehicles discharging 11,878 tons of pollutants each day, as compared to 42 tons of pollutants emitted by vehicles equipped with diesel engines.

An official of the California Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, Nelson told the legislators, has issued a report which declares that RTD's maintenance efforts and achievement in the field of pollution abatement are "nationally recognized as outstanding."

The RTD general manager said the District's abatement program commences with the purchase of equipment and fuel, noting:

"We buy top-quality buses equipped with the latest pollution control devices and pay extra to obtain engines with ratings which exceed normal horsepower requirements."

Nelson noted that by detaching the engines, through the use of smaller fuel injector tips and re-timing, the District is able to achieve excellent combustion.

Observing that people often confuse diesel "odor" with smog, Nelson said the RTD pays a premium of about one-cent per gallon more for its fuel, which is highly refined, low in sulfur content, and contains a special detergent additive which further minimizes any contribution to air pollution.

"Our bus drivers, transportation supervisors and maintenance service crews are constantly on the lookout for visible exhaust and other mechanical problems," Nelson noted.

And, he added, provisions have been made for frequent and thorough maintenance inspections, periodic engine overhauls and other safeguards.

Bill of Rights Anniversary To Be Celebrated Week of December 15-20

The 178th anniversary of the effective date of the Bill of Rights, December 15, 1791, will be observed Monday, Dec. 15 as part of a traditional Bill of Rights Week commemoration set for Dec. 14-20 in this year of 1969.

A re-reading of these important first ten amendments to the United States Constitution is earnestly suggested.

You can scan the 500 words or so in a few minutes. In fact, you can fully digest the whole document in a short time—simply because it is written in such a succinct manner. We think it says what it means—and means what it says.

For the moment, let us leave to historians the admittedly pertinent background factors of then present—or then currently potential—specific abuses still fresh in the minds of a people who had so recently achieved freedom by sacrifice and bloodshed.

The Third Amendment's prohibition against quartering soldiers in a house during peacetime without consent of the owner was concerned a hardship which many citizens knew from experience here or in Europe. The First Amendment's taboo on Congress' establishment of a religion reflected a world in which, hitherto, a "state religion" or "official religion" had been the accepted way of life.

You can go right down the line, recognizing phrases aimed specifically at jeopardies of that era. You might say they added exclamation points in specific areas which the young nation felt the recently enacted United States Constitution might have stated too generally.

But once past these specifics, the overall document speaks a wisdom that is timeless. One of the great paradoxes of our own time is the manner in which many of the liberties spelled out for the individuals in the Bill of Rights have been distorted into so-called Constitutional guarantees for wanton license and irresponsibility.

The very orderliness... of the Bill of Rights indicates it is no manifesto for individual anarchy. It is a bill of particulars proclaiming that laws—not the individual whims of men, whether they be kings, generals or elected officials—shall govern our lives.

Tax Reform Initiative Signed

An initiative measure calling for massive property tax reform was signed recently by city and county officials in the Hall of Administration.

Supervisor Warren Dorn, who helped draft the measure, said the California Teachers Association and County Supervisors Association of California are currently circulating the petitions, which must be returned to county chairmen by December 15.

The initiative would mean $190 million to Los Angeles County, or a property tax rate reduction of 40 per cent, said Dorn.

It would require the state to pay 90 per cent of local welfare costs; increase existing property tax exemption from $750 to $1000, and would require the state to pay 50 per cent of school costs.

The additional monies would go into the County's Property Tax Reduction Fund to relieve property owners, added Dorn.

A total of 520,276 signatures must be obtained.

Everybody is waiting for somebody to do something about smog. Meet somebody.

That somebody is the Gas Company customer serviceman.

When he calls at your house he may be driving one of the more than 1,200 vehicles in our fleet which we are converting to run on natural gas. Because we've found that using natural gas as a fuel in motor vehicles sharply reduces the pollutants in vehicle exhaust—the source of nearly 90% of today's smog.

We're converting our fleet of trucks to natural gas, not just because that's the business we're in (and have been for over a century) but because natural gas burns cleaner. It eliminates most air-polluting substances before they ever get started.

We don't claim that use of natural gas in fleets of trucks is going to clean up the air overnight. But it will help.

We think we've taken a step ahead—one that's worth the effort.

After all, we breathe the same air you do.
